Citrus county clerk of court official records

The Official Records website search provides access to Citrus County public records. These records include information on deeds, mortgages, etc. in Citrus County. The index includes the years 1980 to present and images of the documents are available in PDF format. The images that you may copy off of this Internet site have not been certified as being true and correct copies of the documents filed and recorded with the Clerk of the Circuit Court and County Comptroller. Certified copies of Official Records can be purchased in person at the Clerk's office, by telephone with a prepaid credit card payment, or through the nCourt website. Pursuant to Florida Statute 28.2221 (5)(a) the Clerk is not authorized to post records on this site pertaining to military discharges, death certificates, or court records pertaining to Family, Juvenile, or Probate matters. If you wish to view a restricted image (with the exception of military discharges), you may do so in person at the Clerk's office. In accordance with Florida Statute 119.07, the inspection, examination, and duplication of certain Official Records is exempt from public record classification when one or more of the following criteria on the form is met. If you meet one or more of these requirements, we strongly encourage you to complete a Public Records Exemption Form (PDF) and submit it to our office for redaction. Public Records Request for Release of Exempt Official Record Information Warning: As of July 1, 2019, the definition of home address has been expanded to include the parcel identification number and legal description. Removing this information from the public records may result in unintended consequences, such as the inability to prove ownership of your property. While you are entitled to this exemption, know that you are effectively removing the information from the Official Records. To allow release of information, please complete the Release of Exempt Information (PDF) form and submit to our office. Our organizational values reflect what is truly important to us. They are the standards to which we hold ourselves accountable and the principal beliefs that inspire our behavior, define our culture, and propel us towards our vision of "Serving together...dedicated to excellence", as well as our mission to "Safeguard and Serve". Florida has the most expansive open government laws in the country. Florida began its tradition of openness back in 1909 with the passage of Chapter 119 of the Florida Statutes or the "Public Records Law." This law provides that any records made or received by any public agency in the course of its official business are available for inspection, unless specifically exempted by the Florida Legislature. Over the years, the definition of what constitutes "public records" has come to include not just traditional written documents such as papers, maps and books, but also tapes, photographs, film, sound recordings and records stored in computers. Florida's Government-in-the-Sunshine Law was enacted in 1967. Today, the Sunshine Law regarding open government can be found in Chapter 286 of the Florida Statutes. These statutes establish a basic right of access to most meetings of boards, commissions and other governing bodies of state and local governmental agencies or authorities. Open government law has proceeded on three different, but related, tracks: statutory public records, statutory public meetings, and judicial access decisional law. Florida public records law is codified at F.S. 119.01 to 119.15 (1995). The open meeting statute is commonly called the Florida Sunshine Law, and is codified at F.S. 286.011 to 286.012 (1991). Both open government statutes have been broadly construed by the judiciary and the Florida attorney general's office, and reflect a comprehensive policy of open government. Access to judicial records and proceedings has similarly been broadly granted by Florida courts. Exemptions to the Sunshine Law are not nearly as numerous as exemptions to the public records law. The Sunshine Review Act also applies to the open meeting statute; thus, exemptions to open meeting requirements are reviewed in the same manner as discussed above in reference to open records exemptions. F.S. 286.0111 (1995). To assist the public and governmental agencies in understanding the requirements and exemptions to Florida's open government laws, the Attorney General's Office compiles a comprehensive guide known as the Government-in-the-Sunshine manual. The manual is published each year at no taxpayer expense by the First Amendment Foundation in Tallahassee. Public Records are documents sent to, generated or received by the Clerk of the Circuit Court and Comptroller. Many records are available to anyone who asks. Sometimes a document or file will contain information that is exempt from public disclosure or contains confidential information. According to state law, all state, county, and municipal non-exempt records are open for personal inspection and copying by any person. If the nature or volume of the public records request to be inspected or copied requires extensive use of information technology resources or extensive clerical or personnel assistance to fulfill, the Clerk may charge the requestor the associated cost, in addition to the actual cost of any duplication. In an extensive use situation, you may be asked to pay a portion of the estimated costs prior to the request being filled and the remainder of the cost shall be due upon the records being made available. Many records maintained by the Clerk's office may be accessed via the web. Courts Public Records Request Information (PDF) Click HERE to go to our online Tax Deed Search System. On this page you can search for information by past sale date, certificate number, parcel ID, tax collector number, applicant name, owner name, status, surplus funds, and lands available (aka "List of Lands"). Tax certificates owned by the County, not sold at the auction, are placed on the List of Lands Available for Taxes. Any property placed on the List of Lands Available for Taxes is available for purchase 90 days after the auction date. Click HERE to go to the website to bid on Tax Deed Auctions. Online Auctions are handled by Real Auction.com. Realauction.com is a privately owned company specializing in online auctions for tax certificate sale auctions, mortgage foreclosure sale auctions, tax deed sale auctions and tax deed application processing for local governments and municipalities. The manner in which delinquent taxes are collected is prescribed by Florida Statutes and is briefly outlined below: Citrus County real estate taxes are due each year November 1, payable through March 31 of the following year, with discounts allowed for early payments and a 3% penalty imposed beginning April 1. Items remaining unpaid by mid-April are advertised in the local newspaper for four consecutive weeks in May in an effort to notify the property owners of outstanding tax liability. According to Florida Statutes, on or before June 1, a Tax Certificate Auction must be held. This is a public auction held by the Tax Collector where a tax certificate is sold to the party who will pay the property owners tax and accept the lowest interest rate when redemption is made. A certificate is an interest-bearing lien and the interest rate varies from 0% to 18%. Certificates are sold on any items remaining unpaid at the time of the auction. When a certificate is sold, the property owner can redeem the certificate by payment of the taxes plus penalty, fees and interest. If the certificate is not redeemed within a two-year time period, the certificate holder may contact the Tax Collector's office to begin proceedings for a tax deed auction. For more information on Tax Certificate sales, please visit the Citrus County Tax Collector website. The Tax Collector will deliver the tax deed application to the Clerk of the Circuit Court to begin the process for a tax deed auction. The property is advertised in the local newspaper for four consecutive weeks prior to the tax deed auction. The tax deed auction is conducted electronically by the Clerk of the Circuit Court on the Tax Deed Auction website and is open to the public. The property is auctioned off to the highest bidder. The high bidder shall post with the Clerk a non-refundable cash deposit of $200, or 5% of the final bid, whichever is greater, at the time of the sale, to be applied to the sale price at the time of full payment. If the certificate holder is not the high bidder, they are reimbursed their investment which is the opening bid. If there is no bid on the property or the certificate holder is the high bidder, all additional recording fees and documentary stamp tax must be paid before a tax deed will be recorded. A tax deed is issued from the County to the highest bidder, for non-payment of real estate taxes by the property owner who forfeits all rights to the property by this default. Tax certificates owned by the County, not sold at the auction, are placed on the List of Lands Available for Taxes. Any property placed on the List of Lands Available for Taxes is available for purchase 90 days after the auction date. Are you eRecording your documents yet? If not, you are missing out on the most cost effective, efficient, and secure method for recording your documents. eRecording allows users to scan their documents and use a vendor application to upload the document and associated data. No special equipment is required; just a computer with high speed internet access and a scanner. Original documents never leave your possession. Funds are transferred using Automated Clearing House (ACH) for transfer taxes, recording fees, and a nominal fee that is paid to the vendor for this process. The eRecorded documents can be tracked through the entire recording process and the potential for lost documents is eliminated. Documents are typically recorded the same day if submitted during regular business hours. Once the document is recorded you can immediately retrieve an image that includes our recording stamp. Paper documents should be mailed to the address below: Angela Vick Clerk of the Circuit Court and Comptroller Attention: Official Records 110 N Apopka Avenue Inverness, FL 34450 Please note, a self-addressed stamped envelope is requested for the return of your original document.
